

Vince Burens
BIO

Vince Burens Vice President of Coalition for Christian Outreach (CCO), spent all of his undergraduate years at the University of Pittsburgh involved in the CCO's ministry though Bellefield Presbyterian Church. He served on the student leadership team during his last two years of college, helping to lead Bible studies and short-term mission trips with his peers.

After graduating in 1997, Vince came on CCO staff to reach out to student at Robert Morris University as Director of Young Adult Ministries at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Sewickley, Pennsylvania. He then served as Director of Recruiting and Placement before assuming his current position.

"The college years are a critical time in a person's life, where they are making the decisions that will influence who they are for the rest of their lives," Vince says. "I enjoy working with the CCO because of the people who work here and the overall mission and culture of the organization."

Vince has a strong commitment to youth as well, as shown in his being the head soccer coach at Quaker Valley High School for 10 years. He and his wife, Lori, live in Bellevue, Pennsylvania with their daughters, Mia and Tessa.
